

737 Max to play long-term role in Alaska Airlines fleet

Posted on January 11, 2021 by News Editor

Alaska Airlines will take delivery of its first Boeing 737 Max later this month and looks to add others as a part of its fleet modernization. Thirteen 737 Max deliveries are scheduled for 2021, and Alaska Airlines has an option to add 52 more planes to its current 68-aircraft order.

