Airbus Corporate Jets (ACJ) and Citadel Completions have signed a partnership agreement. Citadel Completions, which is based in Chennault International Airport, Louisiana, has entered the ACJ Services Centre Network and will provide ACJ customers a wide spectrum of capabilities including maintenance, engineering, modification and upgrade services.

According to ACJ, Citadel delivers superior customised service to its clients and is focused on design excellence and on-time aircraft redelivery. Citadel's 10,000 ft runway accommodates the largest aircraft and the company provides a highly skilled labour force for heavy maintenance, repair and overhaul services. The 260,000 square feet facility has multiple hangars and can accommodate multiple aircraft projects simultaneously.

The ACJ Service Centre Network has locations in Dubai, Xiamen, Basel, Bordeaux and Indianapolis and their capabilities include all maintenance related activities, cabin-refurbishing and cabin/system upgrades.
