

Airlines celebrate Girls in Aviation Day

Posted on September 26, 2022 by News Editor

United Airlines celebrated Girls in Aviation Day with events in Chicago, Seattle, Los Angeles and Houston welcoming girls aged 12 to 18 interested in pursuing a career in the industry from engineering to leadership and flight operations. The annual celebration was launched in 2015 by Women in Aviation and has grown to 120 international events for over 16,000 girls with participating groups including United and Alaska Airlines.
