

Airlines for America urges US to reopen to EU travelers

Posted on June 28, 2021 by News Editor

As EU countries reopen their borders to Americans, Airlines for America continues “to urge the federal government to adopt a reciprocal policy backed by science that allows travelers who are fully vaccinated, or who have presented a negative COVID-19 test, to travel to the US,” said an A4A spokeswoman, adding: “The science is there and it is time – if not past time – to take action.”

