

Airports offer outdoor space for passengers

Posted on August 22, 2022 by Travel Editor

Monterey Regional Airport in northern California just opened an outdoor passenger patio and three outdoor spaces are planned for Denver International Airport's new concourses. Other airports that offer passengers outdoor space include San Francisco International Airport, Texas' Austin-Bergstrom International Airport and John F. Kennedy International Airport in New York City.

