

Alaska Air adds former FAA chief to its corporate board

Posted on January 22, 2021 by News Editor

Alaska Air Group has added Daniel Elwell, who has been deputy and acting administrator of the Federal Aviation Administration, to the company's board of directors. Elwell was an American Airlines pilot for 16 years and served as American's managing director of international and government affairs.

