

Corporate trip directors to hotels: How green are you?

Posted on April 27, 2021 by News Editor

Corporations making travel plans have dramatically increased their requests for sustainability data from hotels, according to various hospitality companies. The inquiries, covering areas ranging from waste reduction to energy conservation to social responsibility, raise an underlying issue of lack of agreed-upon “green” standards.

