Delta Air Lines Chief Executive delivered the keynote speech at Tuesday's Consumer Electronics Show (CES) in Las Vegas, introducing an array of technical marvels that the carrier is working on for the future.

But what caught most people's attention was the discussion of free Wi-Fi, and who will get there first.

"Wi-Fi should be free on all flights," Bastian said at the annual highly regarded convention. "I'm confident we will reach that goal within the next couple of years at speeds as fast as on the ground."
