

Hotel asset managers looking up, with staffing as caveat

Posted on April 18, 2022 by News Editor

A survey of 84 members of the Hospitality Asset Managers Association indicates qualified optimism for industry recovery, along with serious concern about labor shortages and wage costs. Two-thirds of respondents predicted RevPAR would reach 2019 levels by 2023, while more than 90% listed understaffing as their top worry.

