

N.M. ski hotel set for demolition, rebuilding

Posted on August 17, 2022 by News Editor

Hotel St. Bernard in Taos, N.M., is working toward demolishing its structure and rebuilding it after it determined the original building was “beyond repair.” The newly reimagined hotel will replicate some of the original hotel’s style, with construction expected to begin next year.

