

New report affirms hospitality's climb back to 2019 status

Posted on June 16, 2022 by News Editor

A report from travel technology company Amadeus added to the recent spate of good news for the hotel industry, finding occupancy and room rates hovering above pre-pandemic levels. Occupancy this summer may slip slightly below 2019 after surpassing the mark in April, but rates are likely to rise, Amadeus projects.

