

TSA to add 6K officers as travel demand recovers

Posted on May 19, 2021 by News Editor

The Transportation Security Administration plans to hire 6,000 new officers to meet expected summer travel demand. “With air travel on the rise, US airlines are working with our federal partners to ensure that travelers have as smooth a journey as possible this summer,” Airlines for America said.

