

US airlines look to rebuild workforce

Posted on February 28, 2022 by News Editor

US airlines including United, Southwest and American are looking to attract new employees in an effort to rebuild their workforce amid the pandemic. United is offering a signing bonus and Southwest will increase starting pay as they anticipate a rebound in air travel as COVID-19 infections decline.

