

Vermont cuts back hotel program for homeless

Posted on June 23, 2021 by News Editor

An estimated 700 homeless people in Vermont will lose their eligibility for hotel stay vouchers as the state winds down a coronavirus-spurred emergency shelter program. Federal funding uncertainty is one reason, while another is the dwindling of vacancies as hotels recover from the pandemic.

